DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-25 and 43-59, drawn to methods of identifying agents or screening for agents, where the technical feature is the use of agents that are microtubule severing proteins.

Group II, claim(s) 26-29 and 34-42, drawn to polypeptides that comprise the p60 subunit of katanin and to kits comprising microtubule severing proteins, where the technical feature is the p60 katanin subunit polypeptide product.

Group III, claim(s) 30-33, drawn to polynucleotides that encode the p60 subunit of katanin, where the technical feature is a polynucleotide product that encodes a p60 katanin subunit polypeptide.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: microtubule severing agents are known in the art. For example, katanin has been identified as a microtubule severing agent, as evidenced by the reference Accession No. O61577, Database SPTREMBL, McNally et al, a reference applied as an "X" reference in the Search Report. Therefore, microtubule severing agents or katanin cannot be used as the special technical feature to unite the claims, and each group has a different technical feature, as outlined above. Because each group has a different technical feature, the groups lack unity of invention.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Art Unit: 1642

i) katanin and the p60 subunit of katanin

ii) XKCM1

iii) OP18 polypeptide

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species i) claims 10, 26-30, 40, 52 and 53

The following claim(s) are generic: 1-9, 11-25, 34-39, 41-51, 54-59.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of species i is the p60 subunit of katanin, the special technical feature of species ii is XKCM1, and the special technical feature of species iii is OP18 polypeptide. Thus, each of the species has a different special technical feature and do not relate to a single general inventive concept.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
